

No Such Investor vacancy

No Such Ventures is looking for a finance professional with strong interest in Venture Capital.

You will be:

- Sourcing the new Adyen, Booking or Takeaway;
- Analyzing investment opportunities, by talking to relevant experts and performing own research;
- (Co-)leading investment processes and bringing them towards closing;
- Supporting colleagues in actively managing our portfolio companies;
- Acquiring and maintaining relationships with our own investors (LPs);
- Promoting No Such Ventures (e.g., attending community events, writing articles, etc.);
- Coaching interns and supporting team members;
- Joining our fun team outings, which often include sports.

You have:

- A strong interest in VC and growth-stage companies;
- An entrepreneurial mindset;
- A will to win;
- The ability to build a strong network;
- An unpretentious and fun attitude;
- The ability to work independently and in teams;
- The ability to listen effectively and analyze people;
- An opinion, yet you are coachable;
- Friends, which call you a team player. The same friends, that you can ask for a favor when analyzing a sector they know.

And:

- 0-5 years of working experience in VC, at a start/scale-up, or in consultancy/PE/M&A/CF;
- A Master's degree;
- The eligibility to work in The Netherlands;
- Fluency in English and Dutch.

You get:

- Exposure and experience in working at a VC, that is also a startup (a double whammy);
- A competitive and enjoyable working environment with fun and high-performing colleagues;
- A chance to work with exceptional entrepreneurs and investors;
- An opportunity to co-invest (together with the full team);
- The chance to board our pirate ship and help shape European venture capital!

Role: Investor
Hours: 40+ hours
Start date: Flexible
Location: Amsterdam
Compensation: Salary + carry

Applications to be sent to:
jakob@nosuchventures.com

Please include your CV and a short motivation + anything you want

Deadline: October 5th 2025

No Such Ventures ("NSV") is a VC that invests tickets of €1-5m in European startups.

We aim to offer an alternative to the rigid, passive investment approach that is prevalent across Europe. Flexibility and active support are the core principles on which we built our company culture of today.

Flexibility in analysis, deal structures and strategies. No rigid playbooks, just what makes sense. Our relentless support comes from the 170+ seasoned entrepreneurs that invest with us and are eager to think along.

We operate on four core values:

Original - we are true to ourselves, fair to others and think independently. We solve problems and forge lasting relationships with authenticity, humor and creativity

Flexible - we think out-of-the-box. If we recognize good, we will make it fit

Focused - we prioritize paying attention to what truly matters, recognizing that 80% of outcomes result from 20% of inputs and with startups, speed equals success

Fit - we take care of body and mind to excel on a daily basis and execute with discipline

