

No Such Intern vacancy

No Such Ventures is growing and looking for an intern with interest in investments and Venture Capital.

Help us become the VC that we want to be, by:

- Attending meetings with prospective portfolio companies and community events;
- Analyzing investment opportunities by talking to relevant experts and performing desk research (e.g. compiling competitor reviews, market data, product demos, etc.);
- Helping the rest of the team with projects related to our portfolio companies;
- Helping us improve our own operations and processes;
- Performing a deep-dive into certain technology areas and markets;
- Voicing your opinion, as ideas matter; titles or positions do not.

You have:

- A will to win;
- An opinion, yet you are coachable;
- Friends, which call you a team player. The same friends, that you'll ask for a favor when analyzing the very market they're specialized in;
- The ability to listen effectively and to analyze people;
- No love lost to analyzing some numbers;
- An unpretentious and fun attitude;
- An entrepreneurial mindset and eagerness to work in the VC industry.

And:

- A Bachelor's or Master's degree;
- Relevant experience through previous internship(s) (e.g. venture capital, private equity, M&A, entrepreneurship, consulting, transaction services); and
- Fluency in English.

You get:

- Exposure and experience working in a VC, which also is a startup (double whammy);
- A competitive and enjoyable working environment with fun and high-performing colleagues;
- A chance to work with exceptional entrepreneurs;
- The opportunity to board our pirate ship and help us find the treasure island ;)

No Such Ventures ("NSV") is a VC that invests tickets of €1-5m in European startups.

We aim to offer an alternative to the rigid, passive investment approach that is prevalent across Europe. Flexibility and active support are the core principles on which we built our company culture of today.

Flexibility in analysis, deal structures and strategies. No rigid playbooks, just what makes sense. Our relentless support comes from the 170+ seasoned entrepreneurs that invest with us and are eager to think along.

We operate on four core values:

Original - we are true to ourselves, fair to others and think independently. We solve problems and forge lasting relationships with authenticity, humor and creativity

Flexible - we think out-of-the-box. If we recognise good, we will make it fit

Focused - we prioritize paying attention to what truly matters, recognising that 80% of outcomes result from 20% of inputs and with startups, speed equals success

Fit - we take care of body and mind to excel on a daily basis and execute with discipline
