

Are you our next No Such Investor?

No Such Ventures is seeking an ambitious, down-to-earth, and original (Medior or Senior) Investor to join our Investment Team in Amsterdam with the goal of disrupting the venture capital industry.

No Such Ventures

No Such Investor (Medior / Senior)

No Such Ventures is looking for an entrepreneurial and fun professional with a strong interest in VC to help us conquer the world even faster!

Help us accelerating our rocket ship, by:

- Sourcing and analyzing investment opportunities (through your network);
- (Co-)leading investment processes and bringing them towards closing;
- Managing our portfolio companies in an active and independent way;
- Acquiring and maintaining relationships with our own No Such Investors (LPs);
- Creating value-adding services for both entrepreneurs and investors in our network
- Promoting No Such Ventures (e.g. by attending community events, writing articles, etc);
- Coaching and supporting (junior) team members;
- Helping us improve our operations and processes to bring No Such Ventures to the next level.

You have:

- A strong interest in Venture Capital and growth-stage companies across sectors and geographies;
- An entrepreneurial mindset;
- A will to win;
- A beginner's mind, eager to learn;
- An unpretentious and fun attitude;
- The ability to work independently and to thrive in teams;
- The ability to listen and analyze people effectively;
- An opinion, yet you are coachable;
- Friends, which call you a team player. The same friends, that you'll ask for a favor when analyzing the sector which they're specialized in;
- No love lost to analyzing some numbers.

And:

- 4+ years of working experience in VC, as an operator in a start/scale-up, or in consultancy / PE / M&A;
- A Bachelor's / Master's degree;
- Fluency in Dutch and English;
- The eligibility to work in The Netherlands;
- Preferably some experience in our core market (The Netherlands);

You get:

- Exposure and experience with working in a VC, which also is a startup (double whammy);
- The opportunity to create and experience a very interesting ride, helping No Such Ventures venture into uncharted territory;
- A competitive and enjoyable working environment with fun and high-performing colleagues;
- A chance to work with exceptional entrepreneurs and investors;
- An opportunity to co-invest (together with the full team);
- The opportunity to board our pirate ship and help shape Europe's top emerging VC!

Role: (Medior / Senior) Investor
Hours: 40+
Start date: Asap
Location: Amsterdam
Compensation: Base salary (+ immediate profit sharing)

No Such Ventures ("NSV") is a European investment firm, focused on growth stage companies, currently investing tickets of €2m to €8m.

We love startups and scaleups. Successful ones are run by ambitious entrepreneurs, not afraid of what others think, creating their own pathways. That's what we like to do as well. So, what's a better way than to partner up with these types of people and companies? We're trying to be the worthwhile venture capitalist to them.

Individually, everyone brings something to the table, through different experiences and viewpoints. Collectively, we are a focused, collegiate team, with the will to win, while prioritizing fun at the same time.

Connecting people to grow together in dedicated missions and unconventional ideas.

Sometimes get the feeling that most investment firms look alike?

Same inflexible fund structure, standard way of communicating and “spray and pray” tactics?

We do. Constantly.

Therefore, we think investing should be done differently:

- Investing through a flexible deal-by-deal structure, instead of a rigid, old-school fund.
- Investing with the money of active investors, who can truly help, instead of with money from passive, asset management investors.
- An entrepreneurial approach towards investing, allowing us to freely invest with regards to business models, rate of business growth, sector, geography, type of shares, and the percentage of shares acquired.
Great companies and investments don't fall into a predetermined, one-size-fits-all bucket.
- Making concentrated bets, instead of using the “spray and pray” approach, which results in a lower investments / NSV team members ratio and more value add towards the companies.

As we're trying to redefine venture capital, we need people onboard that are curious and don't think in terms of limits.

So, you can find us:

- Constantly thinking of and trying to adapt ourselves to be(come) the ideal VC experience.
- Prioritizing unique dealflow, accessed not only through our own personal networks and industry knowledge, but also through the networks of our own active investors of entrepreneurs and experts, which are well and truly part of No Such Ventures.
- Investing on a highly selective basis, as we believe that everything which benefits from attention, grows. Therefore, we have set up a framework to support strong company growth, while also having the network to help with business introductions, finding recruitment candidates, locating befriended domain experts to help, etc.
- Operating based on these values:
 - We act upon first principles, never 'just' follow the herd
 - We take 100% responsibility, with a can-do attitude
 - We love transparency, not wasting each other's precious time

We aim to invest €2m to €8m in ambitious companies, to which we want to be the right, trusted partner, no bag of anonymous money.

Our active investments include StrateX, Trustoo, Rodeo, E.A.Z. Wind, Exasun, Goboony, and blackbear in The Netherlands, Vendora in Greece, and Vromo in Ireland. Our first investment in 24i has been successfully exited, creating a strong fundament to build on.

StrateX is a workforce management consultancy and software provider for SMEs up to large enterprises, helping to predict, match, plan, and report workforce capacity and demand.

Trustoo is a marketplace connecting clients looking for any type of professional services to any service provider in their surroundings.

Vromo builds delivery optimization software which enables restaurants to perform delivery in a more cost-effective way

Rodeo develops project management software with a distinctive UI and UX design for the creative industry.

Vendora has developed an horizontal classifieds marketplace in Greece connecting buyers and sellers in a seamless way.

Exasun produces a solar roof, innovatively merging a roof tile and solar panel into one, making houses energy efficient in an aesthetic way.

E.A.Z. builds 15-meter-tall windmills, superior in terms of reliability, cost, and performance, to make farmers independent of the grid

Goboony is a peer-to-peer motorhome rental marketplace with the most complete and user-friendly offering, active in six European countries blackbear is a software-enabled marketplace matching “solvers” to companies to help them solve their (short-term and paid) challenges
